Habitat Extension Bulletin

No. 16

This brochure provides a list of agencies and organizations which produce and distribute wildlife-related publications. The list concentrates on publication agencies and organizations in Wyoming and surrounding states. This list is by no means all-encompassing or exhaustive. Many references have undoubtedly been overlooked; however, those listed will provide an excellent foundation of usable literature and a good background for a more comprehensive collection of additional information.

The list is arranged alphabetically by federal agencies, state agencies and private organiza- tions. Additional or more area-specific information may be available from local field offices, including Wyoming Game and Fish Department local offices, County Agricultural Extension Service offices, U. S. Forest Service ranger districts, Soil Conservation Service field offices, Bureau of Land Management resource area offices, and county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices among others. Federal/state cooperative facilities such as cooperative fish and wildlife research units and cooperative agricultural extension services are listed under state agencies.
